Want to join ohio council on Family Relations?

Network

Connect with professionals and students from across the state! Share resources and tips, find mentors, students, and collaborators, and see how the family and helping fields are serving in the state of Ohio.

Educate & serve

OHCFR is dedicated to serving Ohio by clarifying issues confronting the individual and family, by influencing public policy and programs with empirical research findings, and by encouraging relevant and important research on individual and family functioning. Serve OHCFR directly on the advisory board or as an officer!
