

The Ohio Council on Family Relations (OHCFR) Advisory Board met on October 13 to review old business and consider upcoming events in which board would be participating. Nine of the ten board members participated in the phone conference. A summary follows:

- ❑ OHCFR sponsored a webinar on the opioid epidemic in September that was presented by Dr. Phil Atkins, Director of the Union County Mental Health and Recovery Board. 98 people registered with approximately 60 participants. Because this was a new venture for OHCFR, the board reviewed the registration procedure and proposed that, for future webinars, registration will be confirmed and, when possible, an email copy of the power point will be provided prior to the actual webinar. Additional information on the opioid epidemic and its impact on Ohio families will be presented in a second webinar on November 30 from 12 to 1 p.m. Information regarding registration will be provide via the listserv, the OHCFR website and Facebook.
- ❑ Six advisory board members (Carmen Irving, Rachel Arocho, Maureen Blankemyer, Amy Kelly, Katie LaPlant, and Patrice Powers-Barker) are developing OHCFR's presentation at the National Council on Family Relations Affiliates Workshop which will be on Thursday afternoon. The presenters will share some of the technology-related activities that the board has engaged in over the past several years at a round table during the workshop.
- ❑ Board members attending the NCFR conference in Orlando were asked to help staff the affiliates table. Stop by the table on Weds. Nov. 15, Thurs. Nov. 16 or Fri. Nov. 17 to say meet an advisory board member and learn how to follow OHCFR on Facebook. There will be a drop-in box to provide the board members with topics for future webinars/workshops as well as nominate an Ohio colleague to be featured on the website.
- ❑ Our media team composed of Courtney Walsh, Rachel Arocho, and Patrice Powers-Barker has posted information regarding members, upcoming events and Bill Tracker 50 on the Ohio website. Courtney is working with NCFR's tech consultant to make the Bill Tracker 50 web pages more user friendly.
- ❑ Scott Tobias reported that most affiliates receive the largest portion of their funds from the NCFR member rebates. Some hold a conference that is paid for by registration fees and hope that expenses do not exceed income from the registration fees.
- ❑ Learn more about who the OHCFR Advisory Board members are as well as members of OHCFR by going to the website. Each month, either an advisory board member or a nominated member will be featured. Contact Rachel (arocho.5@osu.edu) to nominate a colleague to be featured on the website.

□ The board would also like to feature those who presented at NCFR. A list was compiled from an early edition of the program posting but may not be complete because university, practitioners' and/or students' affiliations were not available at the time of the search. Please check the list and contact Audrey Kraynak by Friday October 20 if you or your presentation was not listed (arkraynak@aol.com). Provide her with the presenter's/presenters' names, affiliation/employer, and title of the presentation as well as the date, time and session number/type of presentation. We hope to have an updated list of presentations at the affiliates table so we can support our Ohio colleagues.

□ A discussion regarding when advisory board members' terms of office would be expiring was held. Due to the length of the board meeting, this will be further discussed at the December meeting. Also at the December meeting the board will consider revisions to the by-laws and whether to hold nominations/elections to the board.

The December in-person board meeting will be held on Dec. 15, 2017. Time and place to announced.
